MEDIA COVERAGE & ADVERTISEMENTS

MSMEs urged to tap emerging opportunities in Defence sector

Defence corridors coming up in Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Micro, Small and Medium-scale Enterprises (MSMEs) should make use of opportunities emerging in the Defence sector as there is focus on indigenousness, said C.B. Ananthkrishnan, Director - Finance & CFO of Hindustan Aeronautics Limited.

Speaking at Global Manufacturing Cluster Vision 2030 (GMCV) organised here on Friday by INTEC, Texas Ventures, and Coimbatore District Small Industries Association (CODISSIA), Mr. Ananthkrishnan said that more than 2,000 units related to the Defence sector are listed on the Indian indigenous portal. Of the total capital expenditure budget of Rs. 1.5 lakh crore for the Defence sector this year, 60 % is allocated for indigenousness and it will bring orders to both, the private and public sectors.

There is also an allocation for design and development, he said. Apart from these, there are Defence corridors coming up in Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh.

There are several challenges in procuring for the Defence sector from other countries and it is important to be self-reliant.

At HAL, the steps for sourcing from Tamil Nadu increased in 2020/2021 and it is all set to increase substantially every year.

HAL is looking at increasing its indigenousness from 50 % to 65 %. It has also identified 30 items for indigenisation by CODISSIA Innovation and Skill Incubation Centre for it. The seminar on the theme "Positioning Manufacturers for the Economic Upturn" was held here as part of INTEC 2022, which is on 03 June 6.

GMCV 2030 Advertisement in CODISSIA Bulletin

Through the centre, CODISSIA endeavours to create more technology-based MSMEs. Further, CODISSIA has also been awarded the Atal Incubation Centre by NITI Aayog to nurture start-ups and hand-hold them till they graduate successfully. "With the call for self-reliant India, 'Atma Nirbhar Bharat', gathering pace, manufacturing has come into the spotlight once again. I am sure that INTEC 2022 will serve as a catalyst to push this further," Ramachandran says.

The 10th edition of 'Global Manufacturing Cluster Vision 2030', a one-day conference would also be organised during the fair by CODISSIA, INTEC 2022 and Texas Ventures. The conference aims to provide a platform to bring out leaders from the Indian manufacturing industries to discuss diverse issues pertaining to manufacturing industries.
